

ARMA CODE OF ETHICS

I, an Association of Records Managers and Administrators member, acknowledge:

- THAT I have an obligation to other members of this Association, my country, my employer, and my fellow employees to contribute, whenever possible, to the promotion and improvement of the profession of records and information management, especially through training, study, education, and research;
- THAT I have an obligation to share and disseminate accurate knowledge of the various areas of records and information management;
- THAT I have an obligation to maintain and enhance the reputation of this Association by exemplary conduct and performance of duties to the best of my ability;
- FURTHER I acknowledge that I must make an earnest effort, as a matter of integrity, to fulfill these obligations.
